

Themed Site

The NationTalk team has been tirelessly working on this project for the last year as a commitment to corporate social responsibility.

The IHTODAY.ca platform is designed to ensure consistent, coordinated and appropriate communication relating to health issues pertinent to Indigenous Communities.

Take a stand for Indigenous Communities and all thing health related, partner today and support a By Us, For Us solution

Communication is a key driving factor when faced with unpredictable, uncertain situations. In terms of reconciliation, early and transparent communication within Communities and amongst our Peoples is crucial to build trust and ensure the credibility of public health advice.
